MALO'S DOSSIER AND QUESTIONNAIRE FOR THE CANDIDATURE AS

EUROPEAN TOWN OF SPORT YEAR 2012

European Capitals of Sport Association

The town of Malo, with its authenticity, its monumental and artistic traditions, folklore, food and wine heritage and its location away from environmental pollution, makes this town of about 14600 inhabitants is one of most considered Communities and recognized throughout the Veneto. In recent years great strides have been made, especially in sports and receive the attention of Europe is an opportunity that we are aware that we can not lose. The positive benefits that can come to the territory of Malo in terms of growth and development are undeniable. It is for this that Malo welcomes with great enthusiasm and commitment to the proposals for projects in Europe and all the possibilities it offers, particularly with an eye toward its young people to make them increasingly aware of a future that can respond fully meet their expectations and that it is not necessarily restricted within its boundaries.

Take for example this new challenge Europe launches us: to be candidates to become "European Town of Sport". A project that we regard with great enthusiasm.

First of all, thanks to who, by entering the name of Malo among the possible candidates, have put it in the running for this prestigious title along with other Italian municipalities certainly prestigious. The only chance to see us winning is a source of great satisfaction and pride. And then, when the possibility became a reality, can be activate a multitude of opportunities that we would be ready to welcome and accommodate a project of such great importance.

Implement and upgrade existing sports facilities, building new ones, do not disappoint those who expect a lot from us, this is an incentive to push us to do well and succeed, to compete for the certification of "European Town of Sport".

Just in other occasions, Malo has been chosen for major sporting events and has proven to be based at the sports event, but also appropriate for the stay of the athlete and who accompanies or follows the team.

I'm sure that on this occasion, certainly more challenging, we will be able to present a good calling card for the town, even in terms of sports.

I am sure of this because my fellow citizens have a strong will and a passion for their town and, when needed, are united to work together with even more strength and commitment, because Malo can escape from any confrontation and winning reach each objective, just like a particularly ambitious as this.

Antoniazzi Antonio
The Major of Malo

To advance the candidacy of Malo to “European Town of Sport”, is for me and the Department, which I am privileged to lead, a source of great satisfaction and pride. To be considered at a high level and prestigious as the European context, acknowledges the good efforts made, in recent years to encourage the full development of sport in the territory of Malo. Enhancing the youth sports as an investment for the future, developing in students the concept of exercise as a pleasure and fun in the name of respect for them and for others and for the rules of being together, were the principles guiding of the initiatives and activities promoted by the Department of Sport.

In our city life, sports clubs are active and numerous (about 50), expressions of different disciplines. The continued commitment through actions for continuous improvements of existing sports facilities and the design of new sports facilities areas, involving daily activities of the municipal administration in sharing with the interesting ideas taken directly from the groups which the plant uses.

So there is the total commitment by both the Administration, that the Councillor for Sports of the Municipality of Malo, that sports associations in the country (because it is such a questionnaire with all the figures of the athletes of the companies requested office and returned to the same sports associations), to contribute to the award of “European Town of Sport”.

Malo's candidacy to the European Town of Sports will therefore be on the one side the opportunity to further expand the activities of sports clubs operating in the area and who use the sports facilities daily, and in the other major economic and social development opportunities culture of the City.

The same sports clubs would certainly be very proud to be a full part in a project area so prestigious as the possibility to belong to the "European Town of Sport", and this would develop in various areas that they have partnerships with their respective sports federations reference or twinning with other European countries.

Just for these considerations, therefore, I hope to the heart to the City of Malo, inside sports landscape and alderman of the same sports that I lead, I can win this opportunity rich in meaning and objectives, to bring in Europe Malo, and Europe in Malo.

The City Councillor for Sports in Malo

EVIDENCE

The Malo area was inhabited by ancient primitive people who settled there around the 8th century B.C. In the surrounding hills it were found traces of Neolithic and Iron Age culture. But the true history of Malo originated in the Roman Era, during which two centuriations were built in the layout of roads and cart tracks on the checkerboard hinges and decumani. Later in the territory, in the 10th century, settled the people of the Lombards, whose traces can still be found in the names of people and places, and in some traditional terms of Malo dialect. From 1404 to 1797 Malo was part of the territory of St. Mark of Venice. During this period in the country there were significant developments in agriculture, wine and fruit production, silkworms farming and handicrafts. It began to rise the first farm organizations, churches, beautiful mansions and palaces. In the following three centuries, the architects built the Palladian, Scamorza and Muttoni villas. The era of the organization of Malo as a city-state ended in 1797. In 1866, after the Napoleonic and Austrian domination, thanks to the annexation of the Veneto to the new Kingdom of Italy, Malo became part of it. In the 19th century the art of silk thrived with the silk mills, and furnaces, which characterize the production structure of the country also in the first half of the next century. During the First World War, Malo was located close to the line of battle and suffered a series of damage, but in the second half of the 20th century was still able to adjust itself to the level of post-industrial production in the Northeast of Italy.

TO VISIT

In Malo there are some interesting works of art (architecture, painting, sculpture and other art forms) representative of each period from the third century to the present day. To name a few:

The St. Bernardino church is a Gothic building, built in 1456 on the site of an ancient chapel. The priest at the time, elected by the municipality, was in charge of teaching the young and help the sick and the poor. Inside you can admire the portrait of San Bernardino and other works in fresco.

The Vicar, now De Zen Grendene Palace, was the residence of Enrico Scrovegni and his son-in-law Vitaliano De Lemici, two Padua usurers mentioned in Dante's Divine Comedy, in the 17th canto.

St. Bernardino's church

Zerbato Clementi Villa, that is now the decorous seat of the library, is a set of 19th-century buildings, erected around a tower in the middle of one of the oldest Benedictine houses.

The Cathedral, designed by the neo-Palladian L. De Boni, is an imposing monument in the center of Malo. Inside, along the walls and altars is aligned a series of paintings of the greatest exponents of the Accademia Veneziana, such as: Molmetti, Roi, Zone, Busato.

Meneghello Palace, is the birthplace of Luigi, the most representative Veneto writer of the last decades, whose most recognized work is "Libera nos a Malo" written in 1963. In his famous books, he writes with rare art about his country, especially about the characteristic and free spirit of Malo.

The Museum of the silky-art and bricks, is situated on the 3rd floor of the elegant Corielli Palace, and it is divided into two sections, one dedicated to silk, the other to the brick. In the first, there is an exhibition of various types including cocoons, silkworms preserved in formaldehyde and a series of objects and tools accompanying the visitor, with the help of captions and a good iconographical documentation, to discover this art, not failing to emphasize the hard living conditions of women hired on such activity. In the brick section is described the origin of brick clay and its manufacturing techniques, which over the millennia has been a characteristic element of Malo's and Alto Vicentino's economy. Complete the exhibition some important tools, including a foot lathe, wooden molds and the model of a 20th-century furnace with the Hoffmann kiln.

Museo dell'Arte Serica e Laterizia

Il Museo dell'Arte Serica e Laterizia di Malo permette di ripercorrere alcuni momenti fondamentali dell'evoluzione economica e sociale del territorio maladense. Due furono, infatti, le attività che caratterizzarono la vita della comunità fino ad oltre la metà del secolo scorso: la trattura del filo di seta e la produzione di laterizi. Il museo è ospitato a Palazzo Corielli, dimora padronale nonché sede di una delle filande del paese, di proprietà dell'omonima famiglia.

Una ricca esposizione di oggetti, macchinari, documenti e fotografie d'epoca racconta la storia di filandiere e fornaciari che vissero e lavorarono a Malo o nel circondario. L'obiettivo del museo è quello di condurre a una riscoperta delle radici della comunità maladense e di rendere viva la memoria dei valori dei nostri avi e delle dure condizioni di lavoro di allora.

Il museo è suddiviso in due parti: una dedicata all'Arte Serica, l'altra alla Laterizia

La sezione serica si apre con l'illustrazione del ciclo di vita e delle abitudini del baco da seta, rafforzata dall'esposizione di strumenti e attrezzi usati un tempo dalle famiglie contadine della zona per allevare i cavalieri. Segue una serie di macchinari per la trattura della bava del filo serico, utilizzati nelle filande e chiamati comunemente bacchette. Provenienti da opifici di Malo, essi sono stati recuperati e parzialmente ripristinati, e testimoniano l'evoluzione delle tecniche di trattura nel tempo.

La sezione dedicata alla laterizia affronta il tema partendo dalla geologia del territorio maladense e dalla genesi dell'argilla, illustrate da una serie di plastici didattici. Una vetrina permette di ripercorrere poi la storia dell'utilizzo dell'argilla nei secoli e accompagna il visitatore verso la sala principale, che ospita alcuni attrezzi per la produzione di laterizi: un tornio a piede dei primi del Novecento, alcuni forconi in legno per spostare i forati, degli stampi in legno per mattoni e qualche supelo (stampo curvo utilizzato per modellare e trasportare i coppi).

Yes, our Administration has a sport development plan that aims to involve in the sportive practice all the citizens, of all kind of age, nationality and social rank. Just for this reason the Administration besides making available all the sports facilities of its propriety, allows the free use of other six facilities where you can practice all kind of activity: soccer, walking, ping-pong, cricket, nordic walking.

Almost the whole City sports facilities are managed through the tool of “commercial conventions”.

Identified the sport society of Malo available and suitable to the management of the facility to put in the convention, terms of the agreement are set in part about the aspects of sheer running (payment of consumption, collection of rates, clean up of the place, ordinary upkeep of the facility), in the other part about the economic and transparency relationship between the Administration of Malo and the sport association.

The Sport Councillorship pays out, for the management and use of the facility, an “annual corresponding”, to pay through the presentation of regular invoice.

For the use of the structure, the concessionary association pay to the City of Malo a prearranged import about special rates.

In brief, agreed and drawn up the convention, determined with Town Council's resolution the hours and tariffs of use by all the associations or groups that wanted to make use of the single sport facility, this system of commercial conventions agrees a slim management from a point of view strictly bureaucratic (cause the most part of the relationship between Administration and association is outlined in the convention) and a quick answer about ordinary maintenance that become necessary in the structure by the manager.

A gymnasium, of the Church's propriety, is directly managed from Parish.

But even in this case intervenes the Sport Councillorship of Malo, contributing economically in the costs of use that have sport societies that use this facility. All that in order to make this associations come to pay some special tariffs as if they might obtain the structures of municipal propriety.

The swimming pool on the contrary is managed by a commercial society, result of a financing project. The Sport Councillorship checks monthly this management and the right use of the structure, making inspections by a control commission in which there is an engineer nominated by the Administration, his technical staff and the responsible in charge for Sport Office.

Naturally the structures pertinent to the school area in morning hours are used and managed by the school staff.

2.3 Are there quality evaluation criteria for these sports facilities?
